

7x7SF

Countdown to V-Day: Three Great New Locally-Made Sweets

SusieCakes Sweetie Pies

A bite of pie is sweet respite from all the cupcakes out there. The pies at SusieCakes—which bills itself as a neighborhood bakery, though it has five locations in LA and one on Chestnut Street in the Marina—definitely have a homespun quality to them. The cherry-filled handheld, heart-shaped "Sweetie Pies" are charmingly imperfect, very buttery and flavorful (versus a one-note shortening crust) and all around delicious. One is not enough. ($5.50 per pie)