

Town & Country

A woman with long blonde hair is sitting on a dark, tufted chair. She is wearing a vibrant green, strapless, floor-length gown with a large bow at the bust and a black top hat. Her hands are raised, holding the hat. The background is a light-colored wall with decorative paneling. In the bottom left corner, there is a glass table with a bouquet of pink and white flowers.

ESTABLISHED IN 1846

101
PEOPLE YOU MUST MEET IN 2011

Dorian Leigh:
The Rise and Fall
of Fashion's
First Supermodel

PASTRY
TOUR OF PARIS

Concierge Medicine:
America's Best Care,
For Members Only

meet...
LAKE BELL
IN OSCAR
DE LA RENTA

Elizabeth Chambers wearing Melissa Sweet and Armie Hammer in a suit by Joanne-Alba of Elevée Custom Clothing

Elizabeth Chambers Weds Armie Hammer

Elizabeth Chambers, a correspondent for the Human Rights Foundation, E! and Fox News, married actor Armie Hammer at the All Saints Episcopal Church, in Beverly Hills, followed by a reception at the Church Estate Vineyards, in Malibu. We asked Elizabeth... How did you two meet? I had planned to spend a rainy Saturday afternoon visiting local art museums in Los Angeles with my friend, the artist Tyler Ramsey. He asked if his friend Armie could come, and I said, "Of course." We became best friends for three years, then dated for ten months and got engaged. You're on camera often, so you know there are many options for hair and makeup. How did you choose your wedding day look? I wanted to keep it very simple for the ceremony and take it to the next level for the reception. My makeup was very clean. As for the hair, we did a loose chignon for the ceremony and a pompadour-style ponytail for later. Why the Church Estate Vineyards? I loved the idea of a vineyard or a very pristine ranch setting because of our family backgrounds. Despite the moving around, we both feel we have strong Texas roots. When Armie proposed, he took the ring out of his cowboy boot. The rehearsal dinner took place at the Hammer Museum, founded by Armie's great-grandfather, Armand Hammer. Do you two collect art as well? We collect art that is more attainable for, and personal to, us, such as our friend Tyler Ramsey's work. We like to follow emerging artists. Where did you honeymoon? Bora-Bora—it was fourteen days of bliss. Are more people stopping you and your husband on the street, given the success of his movie The Social Network? Yes, Armie is stopped often. He's 6' 5" and difficult to miss, considering there aren't many people as tall as him. Fan mail? Armie has absolutely been winning in the fan mail department lately, but I love it. His fans tend to be much more entertaining.

Left: Tree limbs with messages written by guests. Above: Bouquet of white and ivory nosegay by Marc Byrd. Top right: Flower girls in J. Crew dresses; Elizabeth's fathers Martin Chambers (left) and William Buntin walk her down the aisle; groom's carrot cake by Susie Cakes.

EDITED BY ALEXIS CLARK

FOR DEADLINES and other requirements regarding wedding-photo submissions, visit townandcountrymag.com.